has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Learn Generative AI with LLMs

In this specialization, learners developed expertise in generative AI and large language models, gaining the skills to create, fine-tune, and deploy AI-powered solutions. Learners explored both foundational and advanced concepts in machine learning and deep learning, focusing on essential techniques and real-world applications. Through hands-on projects, participants learned how to train, optimize, and apply models for tasks across diverse industries. By completing the course, learners demonstrated their ability to harness the power of generative AI, positioning themselves to innovate and solve complex problems in the evolving AI landscape.
